

BACK TO THE REAL THING

Proprietress Tracy L. Orr-Knake displays some of her handmade soaps. Lavender & Lemongrass and Patchouli & Orange are just a few of the soaps featured in her mail order catalog.

piece of mind since they are all natural and have no harsh chemicals or preservatives which can dry and irritate your skin." Each product is hand crafted by some of the oldest methods of aromatherapy and soapmaking. "The soaps, now they're my pride and joy. You have to try the soaps!" In addition to soaps, Essence Maker Aromatherapy also blends wonderful lotions, oils, salves, lip balms, hair oils, and much more. "Artificial ingredients don't necessarily have to be in body care products. I'd like to give people a chance to go back to the real thing. Once you try it you'll see the difference."

ESSENCE MAKER AROMATHERAPY'S ALL NATURAL PRODUCT LINE

Tracy L. Orr-Knake is the proprietress of Essence Maker Aromatherapy, an all natural body care line. Tracy decided to use her chemistry degree and business background to develop a product line that is actually chemical-free.

"Well, more like synthetic-free," she says. "The chemistry is in the research and blending of natural ingredients." Researching is exactly what Tracy has done in formulating these special products from nutrient-rich coconut, palm, and jojoba oils just to name a few. The products are also therapeutically scented with the medicinal extracts of herbs called essential oils. "That's aromatherapy - the scientific study of scent and how it effects your mind, body, and spirit. These products are soothing to your senses and also your
